CAT and KITTEN FOOD is for all breeds of cats and kittens. It is a chicken and lamb meal formula manufactured under carefully controlled conditions and temperatures, resulting in better nutrition, palatability and digestibility for your pet. The secret to Flint River Ranch's great nutrition is how many nutrients are present in the cat's food and how efficiently they are utilized when digested. High digestibility means your pet requires less food and produces smaller, firmer stools and less clean-up.

Super Premium Feline Health Food

There is ample scientific evidence that proper nutrition and correct eating habits can enhance health, performance and longevity. We are starting to understand that the overprocessing and chemical additives which add color and texture can destroy much of the nutritional value of both people food and pet food.

The Flint River Ranch cat food is extruded with the addition of a slight "baking" process to give it the crusty texture. Cat food is higher in price because there is more pure meat protein in cat food. Taurine level is not less than 0.1 % - pH is below 6.4 - Magnesium is less than 0.095% - ash is less than 5.5% - all important to help prevent Feline Urological Syndrome.

PROTEIN: The amino acids provided by the Chicken and Lamb Meal are the basic building blocks of muscle, skin, coat, bone, blood and the immune system. The most important ingredient in a cat's diet is protein. Protein is 32% minimum.

ESSENTIAL TAURINE: The high quality Chicken Meal provides Taurine, an essential amino acid for cats, at much higher levels than the poultry by-products used in most cat foods. It is important for eyes, heart, nervous and reproductive systems.

FATS: The Fat Source has no Ethoxyquin. It is naturally preserved with Vitamin E. Fats provide energy and include essentials for cell structure, hormones, enzymes and fat soluble vitamins. Fat is 20.00% minimum.

FELINE UROLOGICAL SYNDROME: There is little doubt that F.U.S. is directly related to the cat's stress, life style and diet. Low Ash and Magnesium are important in the prevention of FUS. FLINT RIVER RANCH Feline Formula has less than 4.5% ash content and 0.08% of Magnesium. This promotes low urinary pH and helps prevent FUS.

DO THE TASTE TEST! Take two clean bowls. Place your regular cat food in one and the Flint River Ranch Food in the other and watch what happens. YOUR CAT WILL TALK TO YOU.
